

Cloud Storage Apps

Highlight Feature

- > The cloud storage acts as a central information repository for users to directly scan to and print from OneDrive, Google Drive and Dropbox via Toshiba's e-BRIDGE Next MFPs.
- > The embedded OCR converts documents to Microsoft Office file formats and searchable PDF files, making it easier to retrieve electronic data.

Your Challenges

The working environment is constantly evolving towards a paperless office due to the digitising of hardcopy documents. However, cloud storage users are demanding an application that simplifies workflow and allows them direct access to print and scan via the MFP, without operating mobile devices and computers.

Our Solution

Toshiba's cloud storage apps are a convenient approach, which act as a bridge between the electronic documents in the cloud storage and the MFPs. Users are able to access documents easily from the cloud storage to print or scan with Toshiba e-BRIDGE Next MFPs.

CLOUD STORAGE APPS

Your Benefits

Toshiba introduces cloud storage apps to significantly reduce the total cost of ownership as no additional server needs to be maintained in each office.

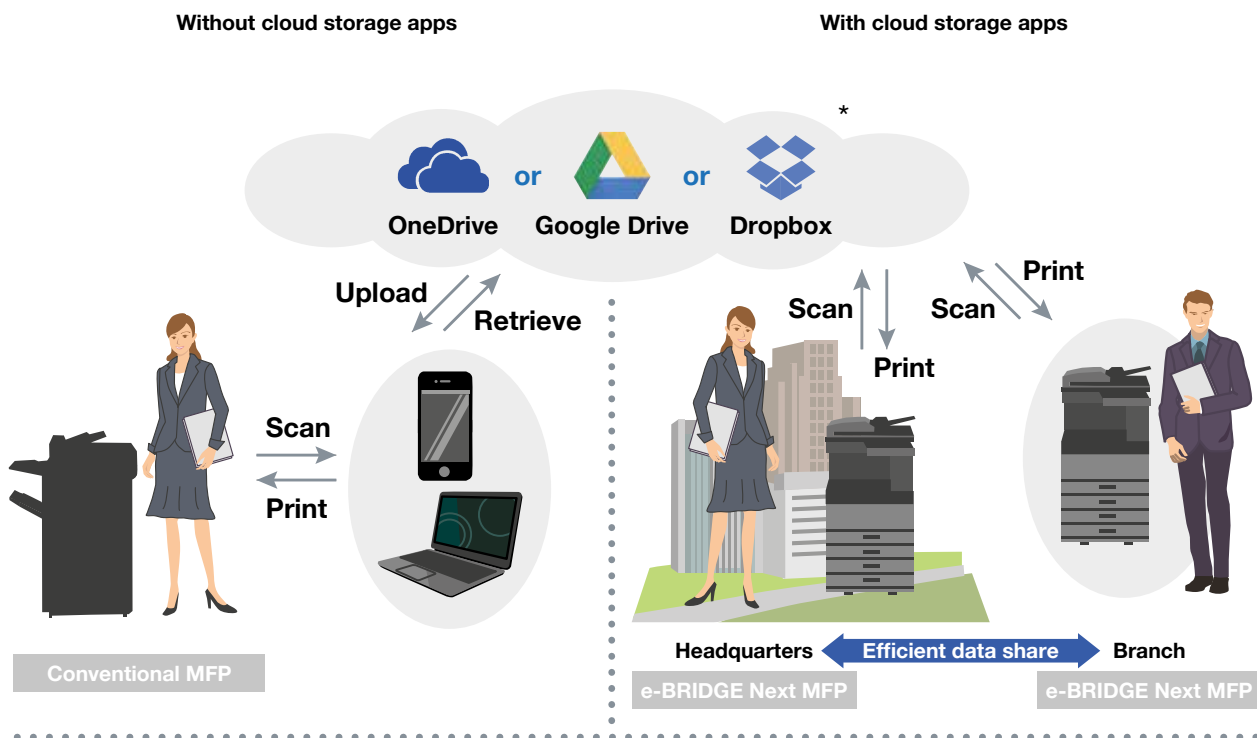

With this easy solution, users can scan and store paper documents in the cloud when operating the MFP. Additionally, it also enables users to direct print and share electronic documents anytime, anywhere without limitation even while away from the desk.

Where to Use

Toshiba Cloud Storage Apps¹⁾ can be integrated seamlessly with the latest Toshiba MFPs in the following settings:

- > Business Centres (i.e. convenience stores, print services)
 - Reduce TCO, diversify business
- > Shared or mutual services
 - Accessibility, simplified workflow
 - Remote data sharing among branch offices

¹⁾ e-BRIDGE Plus for Google Drive, e-BRIDGE Plus for OneDrive and e-BRIDGE Plus for Dropbox

* With cloud storage apps there is no need to use mobile devices. You can scan and print from the MFP and upload directly to the cloud.
